

Pretty little things

The ladies of Chennai sure are getting all dolled up with the numerous beauty contests and fashion shows taking place in the city. Anushka Salon and Spa, was the latest to join the bandwagon with its 'Face of 2010' contest. This competition aims at bringing out the most fashionable, talented and beautiful of them all to the forefront. Nearly thirty contestants hit the runway and got trained by industry experts in the first round of the auditions, which will witness its last leg in July.
